

Dasani enjoys his first Men's Hike which was recently held on Martin Luther King Day. We have been conducting these hikes in the North Georgia mountains since 1993 as a means to providing a wonderful opportunity for young men to experience the beauty of God's creation and take a step towards manhood. We stopped at Wylies in Dahlonega for a pancake breakfast and then traveled on to the Cooper's Creek wilderness area for our hike. Getting lost and needing to trust God to help us find our way out of the forest was the boys favorite part of the journey! It was an incredible growth experience for them.

Dekee celebrates with fellow LukePrep writers at our book release party earlier this month.

Dekee, pictured right, enjoys seeing months of hard work pay off in a big way at our recent book release party. The 14-page comic book tells the story of Chris and JD and how they struggle with making wise choices. Rocky, WonderWeave and BPD serve as modern-day superheroes who step in and help protect Chris and JD as life gets rough in the city. The LukePrep students developed the story-line, characters and provided sketch drawings to professional artists. This is the first published book by our young writers and we thank ART on 5 and The Atlanta Resource Foundation for their support and expertise in making this project possible.
